

Former Deputy Chief of Mission at the U.S. Embassy in Iraq, Joseph Wilson investigated the credibility of documents claiming Sadaam Hussein had purchased uranium. Wilson determined the claim was false but the accusation remained in President Bush's January 2003 State of the Union address.

© 2003 Carolina Productions